

What is eBISTRO?

Need to spice up your lessons? Need help with new recipes for integrating technology? A delightful dining experience is a click away at eBistro, NC DPI's newest (and free!) resource for teachers. eBistro is an online learning environment for educators in North Carolina and it is designed to provide teachers with resources for classroom technology integration, IMPACT Model implementation, grant writing, and other related topics. Log in to complete the learning module(s) of your choice and create a professional online digital portfolio.

How do I begin?

There are two ways to begin:

1. Review the modules by clicking on the menu board on the eBistro main page. This will give you the opportunity to review the modules currently available. The categories of modules are listed below.
2. Click on the briefcase on the eBistro main page. Here you can create your login and begin the portfolio process.

Specials

Fresh catch of the day! (Newly posted modules)

Hors d'Oeuvres

Mouth-watering modules that address introductory materials or basic skills

Entrees

The real meat of using technology in the classroom, like searching the Web, critical evaluation skills, and more

Side Dishes

À la carte administrative tasks (email, gradebooks, bookmarks, working with graphics, etc.)

Desserts

"Icing on the cake" applications
(virtual field trips, GPS in the classroom, video production, etc.)